

Dick Vogt appointed Phase editor for '61

Richard L. Vogt, a senior from Delphos, O., has been named editor of Phase, the St. Joseph's yearbook, for 1960-61.

Vogt, a marketing major, had

not worked previously on the Phase staff, but was editor of his high school yearbook. He has been a member of the Ohio club and the Flying club.

Dave Cook, senior accounting major from Ft. Wayne, Ind., and treasurer of the Student Council, will be business manager for this year's book. He was assistant business manager for Phase last year, and is Stuff's business manager this year.

Vogt said that his staff is not yet complete. So far, seniors Dave Hoover, Frank Bergman, Bob Decker, and Bill Zleit, junior Joe Boton, sophomore Jim Biehl and freshman Jim Holland have joined the staff.

Faculty advisor for Phase, Mr. James A. O'Brien, said that the 1959-60 yearbooks should be arriving for distribution any day now. They were due the first week in October.

The reason for the lateness of the book is that all the copy is not available for the printer until late June so that graduation pictures may be included in the book.

An effort will be made to get this year's book out sometime in May. Anyone interested in working on the staff, regardless of experience, should contact Vogt or Mr. O'Brien.

Candidates to be nominated for Woodrow Wilson graduate awards

An election campaign promising rich rewards for the successful candidates gets under way today as thousands of faculty members from universities and colleges in the United States and Canada begin to nominate college seniors for Woodrow Wilson graduate fellowships.

In announcing the opening of the competition for the academic year 1961-62, Dr. Hugh Taylor, President of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, estimated that well over 9,000 students will be nominated by the closing date of Oct. 31.

Designed to reduce a nationwide shortage of qualified college teachers, the program annually awards 1000 fellowships for first year graduate study at any university of the recipient's choice in the United States or Canada.

Candidates are elected only after rigorous screening and personal interviews by one of fifteen regional committees of educators. Each elected fellow receives a $1500 stipend for living expenses plus full tuition and family allowances.

The program is open to college graduates mainly in the humanities and social sciences. Both men and women are eligible, and there is no limit on the age of the candidate or on the number of years he may have been out of college. Those who receive awards are not asked to commit themselves to college teaching, but merely to "consider it seriously" as a possible career.

The program, designed to encourage college seniors of outstanding ability to study for advanced degrees with faculty jobs as their goal, is administered by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation under a $24,500,000 five year grant from the Ford Foundation.

Dr. Hans Rosenhaupt, National Director of the Wilson Fellowship Foundation, in an analysis of the past years' activities, reported that the highly selected grants have been awarded to graduates from 560 different colleges. This is convincing proof that many colleges throughout the country, not only the few well-known ones, offer high quality education.

Almost 90 per cent of all the 1000 Fellows in 1959-60 continued study after the first year, and more than 75 per cent of all Fellows eventually end up in academic positions. Of the nominated candidates who failed to win Woodrow Wilson Fellowships more than 80 per cent, Dr. Rosenhaupt said, went on to graduate school anyway, often with financial help from other sources. He estimated the annual need for new college

Job program engineered by Bro. Gerard

"The Student Employment Program at St. Joseph's is designed to assist a student to support himself while attending college." Brother Gerard, manager of student employment at St. Joe, made this statement in a recent interview.

According to Brother, many students are deficient in funds and depend on after-school jobs to supplement their tuition. Other students merely seek jobs in an effort to acquire spending money. Jobs are given to those students most in need of financial aid.

When asked what procedure is followed in this new employment program, Brother gave a definite plan. The student fills out forms which are obtained at the Rec hall. These forms are turned into the Dean of Men's office where they are either rejected or okayed. The student is then notified of the results.

If, after acquiring a job, a student is unable to maintain the required index (1.5 for freshmen, 2.00 for upperclassmen) he will be forced to quit and will not be rehired for two semesters.

Brother said that there are about 153 students working on campus and thirty-five applications are in the Dean's office. The bulk of student workers is in the cafeteria, Rec hall, and janitorial service. He believes that the peak in available jobs has been reached.

Campus pay is .85c an hour and is considered fair as compared with other colleges. Workers average about nine hours per week.

As applicants for jobs become more numerous, more jobs will be needed and the employment plan may undergo some revisions. In Brother Gerard's view, however, the employment service is helping many students continue their college education.

Duggan receives Ph.D. at Penn

Francis X. Duggan, assistant professor of English at St. Joseph's college, received a Doctor of Philosophy Degree from the University of Pennsylvania at the University's 204th commencement in Philadelphia on June 15.

Dr. Duggan, who studied in the School of Arts and Sciences at the University, received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Notre Dame in 1948, and his Master of Arts degree from Pennsylvania in 1950.

A native of Philadelphia, Dr. Duggan has been teaching at St. Joseph's college since 1958. Before coming to St. Joseph's he taught at Chestnut Hill College (Philadelphia) and Notre Dame.

"Paul Elmer Moore and the American Tradition 1864-1937" was the title of Dr. Duggan's thesis for his doctorate.

SJC lecture series planned for year

St. Joseph's College will again sponsor a series of lectures by noted persons on various topics of current interest. Mr. James T. Farrell, director of the lecture series, announced the schedule of this year's lectures. Five lectures have been scheduled.

Rev. Robert North, S.J., professor of archeology at the Biblical Institute of Jerusalem, will open the series on Nov. 3 with a talk on the Dean Sea Scrolls.

On Monday, Dec. 5, Rev. Norman O'Connor, C.S.P., chaplain of the Newman club at Boston University, will lecture on modern jazz. Fr. O'Connor is a well known author, lecturer and TV personality.

A lecture on Christian Anarchism will be given on an as yet undecided date in January by Dorothy Day, editor of The Catholic Worker, and a noted authoress and lecturer.

A former member of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), professor Robert Byrnes, Chairman of the History department and professor in history at Indiana University will speak on recent European history. Professor Byrnes' lecture is scheduled for sometime in February.

The lecture for March will be presented by professor Frederick Pike of the history department of Notre Dame University. Professor Pike, a Fulbright fellow in Chile, will lecture on the decline of American prestige in South America.

The dates of the January, February and March lectures will be announced at a later date by Mr. Farrell. Also, the precise time and place of all the lectures will be announced in advance of each lecture.

SJ students receiving $138,904 in scholarships, loans, grants

St. Joe students are receiving a grand total of $138,904 in financial aid this semester.

Academic scholarships account for $23,964 of this total. Held by 55 students, the scholarships are renewable at the end of the first semester provided the recipient maintains a 3.00 or higher index.

Twenty-six students are receiving $9,410 under the grant-in-aid program. They are required to work off one-third of their grants.

Forty-three full athletic grants (room, board, and tuition) have been made. Of these, 31 are in football and are divided among 46 players. The other 12 have been distributed among 19 basketball players. There are no scholarships for baseball or the minor sports.

Loans totaling $30,610 have been made this semester by the National Defense Student Loan fund. These loans are renewable at the end of this semester provided standards of need and academic standing are met.

Thirty-five students are each receiving $100 this semester from band grants. This amount will be given again next semester.

Founded during the education scare following the launching of the first Soviet satellite, the program is aiding needy students all over the country.

In the course of the last three years St. Joseph's has received $128,064 from the government. To this the college has added $14,229, or one-ninth of the amount given by the government.

During this period 143 St. Joe students have received loans totaling more than $90,000. Nine hundred dollars has already been paid back by the student borrowers.

Remaining in the fund is $50,097. This will be used for loans for the second semester of this year and for new students in the fall of 1961. It is assumed that in the future the government will make a new grant to replenish the fund.

Puma weekend features mixer

It's going to be a busy weekend in Pumaville.

The Student Council has invited all the fathers of St. Joe football players to attend a special Dad's Day on Saturday to see the Pumas play ICC rival Indiana State. Refreshments will be served the dads and their sons after the game.

Also . . . the dance committee plans a mixer for the Rec hall Saturday night. Mike Mettler and Dave Hoover, co-chairmen of the dance committee, expect 320 girls to attend the mixer. Girls from Rosary, Marian, St. Mary-of-the-Woods, St. Xavier, St. Francis, and Barat have been invited. Records will again provide the music.

Oh yes, the mixer will be held INSIDE the Rec hall this week.

Winkeljohn wins tape recorder

Bob Winkeljohn, a sophomore, won the VM hi-fi tape recorder raffled off by the Sociology club last Monday.

The second prize, a Norelco electric shaver, was won by Bill Ring, a junior. Mike Mistretta, a freshman, won the third prize—a $10.00 gift certificate at Falvey's men's store. The fourth prize, a $5.00 gift certificate at Long's drug store was won by Robert Phelps.

Miss Jean Granfield, the college nurse, drew the winning tickets after the evening meal in the cafeteria.

SC takes over publication of programs for SJ home games

The need for more adequate programs at the St. Joe home games, both in football and basketball, has long been recognized. But, until now little has been done about it.

The Student Council, under president Al Hanley, has now taken over the publication of the programs which were formerly put out by the office of the Athletic Director. Frank Bergman, a senior from Chicago Ill., has been appointed by Hanley to supervise the drawing up of the programs for each game.

This Saturday, the new programs will make their debut. Ten thousand eight-page programs have already been ordered for the basketball season.

During the past two years, the St. Joe programs have been ridiculous. A single sheet of paper folded in half, the programs did not even announce the name of the St. Joe opponent on what was supposedly the cover.

Programs are supposed to give the fans a little background on the two teams, and tell them what ball players to watch for. They have not been doing this.

The programs for the last St. Joe home game, against DePauw, provided a vivid illustration of their inadequacy. "Mr. Robert Jauron" was listed as the Pumas' head coach, and "Rev. Aloysius F. O'Dell" was listed as assistant director of athletics.

Jauron has been long gone (two years) and Fr. O'Dell is in Rome.

This type of program serves little purpose. The only thing the programs of the DePauw game accomplished was to bring ridicule on the college.

Saving money is said to be a virtue. But even virtues can be abused through excess.

Even Rensselaer high school can afford to print a higher quality program than St. Joe has been passing out. The cost is not at all prohibitive. In fact, the Coca-Cola company will provide the paper for the programs, so that the only cost involved will be the printer's bill. This will be paid from the budget of the News Bureau, not the Student Council treasury.

We have long needed larger, more adequate and respectable programs. The Council is to be congratulated for its fine efforts.

Kennedy can meet the challenge of the Sixties--Young Democrats

"The new frontier is not a set of promises—it is a set of challenges."

With these words Sen. John F. Kennedy stated the theme of the 1960 election. The issues are clearly drawn. Are we to have four more years of diminished vision, stunted growth, retreat, slow defeat and false contentment while Soviet diplomacy runs rings around us? The answer of the American people must be no. We must not have another administration whose only reply is, "We agree with you, but—"

Rather, we must have a leader who will meet the challenge of the 60's both at home and abroad. That man is Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Probably the phoniest campaign issue since the Republican espousal of prohibition is the one of experience. Before Nixon had ever been more than three miles from the U.S., John F. Kennedy had traveled throughout Europe and written a best-selling book, Why England Slept, about the causes of World War II. Sen. Kennedy's concern for world peace has taken him to Russia, Germany, China, Israel, Poland, India, Korea and 27 other countries in Latin America, the Middle East, Europe, Africa and Asia.

Sen. Kennedy is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee where he has concentrated on the problems of uncommitted nations in Asia, Africa and Central America. What is needed in the 60's is not a man who can sass Khrushchev over washing machines, but one who can surpass him and his system. That man is Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Last week in this space the Young Republicans showed that they followed their mentor in being "completely inaccurate" in their statements. They claimed that Sen. Kennedy aimed at direct federal aid and thereby the control of education by the government while Nixon wants to work through the states. This is a complete fabrication of the facts in an attempt to cover over the Nixon record on education which no amount of make-up can do.

In the first televised debate Sen. Kennedy clearly stated, "I don't want the federal government paying teachers' salaries directly, but if the money will go to the states and the states can then determine whether it shall go for school construction or for teachers' salaries, in my opinion you protect the local authority."

The Nixonites claim that Nixon is for higher teachers' salaries—forgetting that it was his vote that killed an amendment offering funds to the states to raise such salaries. They say he is for federal aid to colleges, forgetting that he called it "undesirable" in the day when the Democratic Congress passed it twice and the Republican Administration vetoed it twice.

In the field of medical aid to the aged we again see the patches in the Republican make-up. Their program would have cost the federal government and the states 1.2 billion dollars per year. The Kennedy plan linked with that of Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) would have been financed through the social security system with by social security.

In this way everyone would contribute his own share. The plan would be set up under an already existing system at just one level of Govern-regard to leaving Mass on Sunday, so now we march out like grammar school children, and there is no one who saw what used to go on after Sunday Masses who can raise an honest objection to this policy.

Thus, the choice is our own. We must adopt an attitude that will make it unfashionable to cut in line, or we must submit to some form of authority.

Any action on this problem should come from within. It should take the form of a general consensus on campus against such activity. It should not have to involve enforcement by any special agency. It would certainly not speak well of any of us if this latter course of action becomes necessary.

ment. This would entail less administrators and lower costs of operation than under G.O.P. proposal.

Sen. Kennedy has come out strongly in favor of federal aid to cities to help combat slums in the housing bills passed by Congress but vetoed by the Republican administration. Mr. Nixon, meanwhile, has said that the basic housing bill of 1949 has worked well.

This is an interesting admission because Mr. Nixon voted against the Housing Act of 1949 and has consistently opposed every basic feature of it. He says from one side of his mouth that he has compassion for those who have been crowded into our sprawling urban slums while with the other side suggests that the interest rates on FHA and VA house mortgages should be raised.

Let us take a look at the last eight years under the Eisenhower-Nixon era of bliss:

1. We have lost prestige and respect throughout the world.
2. We have been outclassed in diplomacy.
3. We have been content with a second place showing in the space race.
4. The high interest rate-tight money policy has brought us two recessions and the threat of another.
5. Our farmers have been completely Bensonized.
6. The "clean as a hound's tooth" has had quite a few resignations for health reasons and the good of the party.
7. The present administration has failed to meet the economic assault of Russia in the Middle East, Africa, Asia, and even in Latin America.
8. The administration and Mr. Nixon in particular has followed a head in the sand approach to civil rights.
9. Our country's rate of economic growth has been less than that of any other industrialized economy.
10. Its military policies have left us facing a missile gap in the 60's.

The present administration has gone even so far as to say that it is no problem of theirs if the people are poisoned by polluted water.

Yes, it will be the same Republican party of Harding, Coolidge, Hoover, Landon and Dewey that will be in Washington for four more years unless the people wake up to see the danger that faces us rather than being tranquilized by the soft soothing words of the political chameleon, Richard Milhouse Nixon.

The 60's may well prove to be America's greatest test. To meet the challenge of the future we must have men of experience and proven ability. What America cries out for is leadership, and the Democratic Party has answered her. In November history and reason demand that the result be a victory for John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson.

Reviews at random

By GLENN CLAUSEN

You say you are bored? You're a playboy, but you don't know where to play? You say you dig progressive? And you, you intellectual pipe-smoker and lover of the "way out" life, think Dali's art movies are the most.

From the espresso house to the theater, from the pages of Ginsberg to T. S. Eliot, from Verdi to Charlie Parker, your reviewer will ramble at random to bring you your kicks on route 53.

I'll try and bring you out of your little cell of scholarly boredom with news from our beat brethren, our night people, and anyone else who might interest Puma playboys. I hope that you'll approve of this column's new look for the '60's, and send any suggestions for future columns to the editor of Stuff, Bill Malley.

This week we'll peek inside the Oblique. Located at 714 N. Rush St. in the heart of Chicago's gold coast, the Oblique is a strange mixture of the beat society and the more prosperous cafe society. It is an espresso house that features folk music. On a postage stamp stage, bongos and guitars alternate between "John Henry" and "I am a Yiddish Cowboy".

You will see a lot of people in the Oblique looking for beatniks, but very few beats. Don't despair, there is always at least one real beat amongst the crowd in the narrow room.

The entertainment at the Oblique is usually above average, if you like folk music. The prices charged for a taste of espresso are also above average. If you don't mind paying close to two dollars for an inch of strong coffee, you'll get a kick out of the Oblique. Their pastry is way below par, so don't waste your money!

The best way to get to the Oblique is to take the Outer Drive to Chicago Ave., go west on Chicago to Rush, turn left on Rush and you'll see a little sign south of the Club Alabam, that's the Oblique.

The best show is usually the last one which starts around 10 in the evening. You'll probably only be able to afford one show!

Well, Puma playboys if you've been dying to meet a beat, head for the Oblique. Oh yes, it makes for that different kind of date, if your girl is the kind that likes off-beat entertainment.

Council critique

By MARTY WATERS

Last week's Student Council meeting was highly gratifying insofar as general participation was concerned. It is the duty of the Council to serve the student body and conversely, it is the duty of the student body to let the Council know how it wishes to be served.

It is true that supplying pencil sharpeners and guaranteeing garbage collections are not the primary functions of the Council, but they are concerned with the students' interests, and thus are worthy of consideration.

These may seem like trivial gripes, and it may seem petty to use the Council as a sounding board for them. However, where else are the students to take them? It is infinitely better for them to be brought before the Council than to a Rec hall bull session. This practice, adhered to within the limits of reason, is a healthy sign.

A more serious aspect of this practice concerns cutting the line in the cafeteria. This problem is most acute at noon on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Due to obvious limitations in cafeteria facilities, the line after eleven o'clock classes becomes intolerably long.

Athletes have traditionally been allowed to cut the line when their sport is in season. No one begrudges them this privilege. They deserve it. However, it seems that this fall there are about 200 football players on campus. This is not funny; it is revolting.

Just because some jerk thinks he is in a hurry to do something important, he doesn't have the right to inconvenience his students who may also have something to do.

Now the problem is what can be done about this. Various remedies were suggested at the last Council meeting and the only conclusion reached was that it is a situation which cannot be easily remedied. Collection of ID cards would be a tedious and unpopular solution.

Submission to the authority of a paid watchman would be an affront to the entire student body. It would be an admission that the students are not able to act like men. Of course, an admission of this sort might not be terribly far from wrong. It is up to the students to prove otherwise.

We were unable to do so with

Wheaton Crusaders jolt Pumas with passes, gain 20-13 victory

By HUGH MARTINELLI

Wheaton Crusaders dumped the St. Joe Pumas last Saturday by a score of 20-13. This non-conference loss gave St. Joe a 1-2-1 record. Scoring all their points in the first half, Wheaton's combination of quarterback Dave Iha throwing to end Bill Hirst, proved to be a threat the Pumas could not handle.

Scoring in the first half was dominated by Wheaton as they held a commanding 20-6 lead at half time. The Crusaders opened the scoring in the first quarter as fullback Bill Ladd capped a drive with a 12 yard run for the T.D. Halfback Skillen crashed the Puma defense for a two point conversion.

In the second quarter, the Pumas drove to the Crusader two yard line with halfback Bob Piero going for the T.D. The Crusaders kept coming back, mostly with passes from Iha to Hirst, the last covering 21 yards for the T.D. The try for the extra point was blocked.

Wheaton used a Puma fumble by halfback Cochrane on the Puma 30 as a springboard to another T.D. Again the passing ate up most of the yardage with Iha throwing a four yard pass to Hirst for the T.D. An attempted pass for the conversion was batted down.

The start of the third quarter saw the Crusaders drive to the Puma two yard line, where they were stopped. Late in the quarter the Pumas put on a delayed march. Aggressive George Connelly, Puma fullback, spearheaded the drive and crashed the last three yards for the touchdown. Beran booted the extra point in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter.

Wheaton's Jarvis intercepted a Gardner pass on the Pumas 38 to stop a St. Joe scoring drive late in the fourth quarter.

Fullback George Connelly led the Puma rushers with 5.5 yards per carry. He was followed by Bob Piero who averaged 4.8 yards a carry.

George Connelly again led all Puma ballcarriers against Wheaton. He averaged 5.5 yards a try.

Varsity views

By BOB ROSPENDA

After polishing off Butler at Indianapolis two weeks ago, the Pumas succumbed to the aerial attack of a tough Wheaton squad last Saturday. The Big Red almost came back in that game, but time ran out before they could get their hands on the ball for a final push.

Although the St. Joe overall record now stands at a mediocre 1-2-1, the Pumas remain undefeated in ICC conference play with a 1-0-1 record. With this good start in conference play, the Pumas must be rated a good chance to recapture the ICC grid title from Butler, who has won it the past two seasons. Prior to the Bulldogs two year reign, the Big Red held the ICC football championship for three consecutive years. It was of course during that span that St. Joseph's went down to Little Rock for the memorable Aluminum Bowl game.

This Saturday the Sycamores from Indiana St. invade Pumaville in hopes of derailing the Big Red. The Sycamores were beaten last weekend by Butler 20-13. They now have a dismal 0-3 record in ICC play, so they can be expected to be really hungry for this one.

The weekend after the State game will see St. Joe battling the Valparaiso (Booo! Ssss!) Crusaders up at Valparaiso. Everyone looks forward to this game including the players who will be going hell for leather in the annual battle of the rival schools. We haven't beaten Valpo for a couple years now (The flu must agree with them!); the time is ripe for a Puma victory.

Even in losing last week to Wheaton, the Big Red looked tough. Gardner called another good game, and his passing was never better, especially in the first half. The forward wall again played its usual excellent game except for a few rare moments. Dempsey played most of the game with his painful arm injury, and Connelly once more was all over the place, giving the Pumas that shot in the arm when it was needed.

The way things are shaping up, Evansville looks like the team to beat this year in the ICC. With last Saturday's 10-7 victory over Ball St., they remain on top of the heap with an undaunted 3-0 record in ICC play. The Pumas do not meet Evansville until the last game of the ICC season, Nov. 5. Of course its too early to tell yet, but it might turn out to be the conference decided.

Fighting Sycamores to invade Pumaville

By PHIL BONELLI

The St. Joseph Pumas return to Collegeville Saturday to face the spirited Indiana State Fighting Sycamores. Since 1924 St. Joseph has won eleven games and State has won five in their series. Last year the Sycamores upset St. Joe 20-14 on State's home field at Terre Haute, Ind. In 1959 Indiana State finished with a five and three mark for the year and were three and three in ICC competition.

Indiana State's head coach Bill Jones, who played his football at Ohio Wesleyan, is in his fourth season at the helm of the Sycamores. He has seventeen lettermen returning from his 1959 squad. Seven of these lettermen were regulars last year. Also a fine crop of sophomores headed by fullback Steve Brandenburg and guard Joe Beech should make Indiana State a real contender this year for the ICC crown.

The team is built around the fine passing of quarterbacks Bob Clements (160) and Gil Fujawa (170), both juniors. In 1959, Fujawa completed 34 of 84 attempts and Clements had 21 of 49.

On the receiving end of their aerials will be senior ends Wally Webb (175) and Rich McNair (170). Last year Webb caught 12 passes for 221 yards and three touchdowns. Lloyd Robs (160) who led the Sycamores in scoring last year with 38 points and Carl Zarndt (17), a converted end, will be at halfback spots. A lot is expected of Brandenburg, the promising sophomore, to fill the fullback slot.

The big State forward wall will include seniors Don Clark (235) and John Thyen (230) at the tackles. Sophomore Joe Beech (200) will probably get the call at the left guard spot with senior Claud Sanders (235) at right guard. Ramon (Turk) Roman weighing 165 will start at the pivot spot.

Chief Puma Joe Iofredo and his squad will be hoping to avenge last week's loss to Wheaton with a big victory over the up and coming Indiana State Sycamores.

IM cross-country meet Oct. 21; football field day set for 28th

The all-campus intramural cross-country meet will be held on Friday afternoon, Oct. 21, at 3:45 p.m., announced Intramural Director Ed Dwyer. The course will be approximately 2½ miles long.

All those interested in participating should submit their names to the intramural football team captain from their hall; the captains in turn should bring the list of entrants to the Fieldhouse at the earliest possible date. Participants need not be members of any intramural football team.

Points won in the cross-country event will count toward the All Sports Trophy. There is no limit on the number of participants from any given hall, however only the top three runners from a hall in the race will go on record as comprising the team from that hall.

The all-campus football field-event day is scheduled for the following Friday, Oct. 28. The contests include: (1) the football throw for distance, (2) the punt for distance, (3) clocked 100-yard dashes, and (4) most consecutive number of field goals from the 12-yard line. Three chances are allowed for the first two contests mentioned. Registration for participation in the football field-event day can be made with the officials on the day of the event.

The cross-country meet and the football events day are being held on Fridays to avoid conflicts with the regular football season schedule. The field goal contest is an innovation this year.

Piero out for year

Bob Piero, senior halfback, sustained a shoulder separation at practice Monday afternoon and will play no more football for the Pumas this year. The injury required an operation, which was performed Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. Piero acquired the injury when he fell, landing on his shoulder, after leaping to catch a pass.

Dave Hoover tells Marty Waters and Bill Fisher of his plan to move the new Rec hall booths out to the parking lot for Saturday's mixer.

No . . . Rec hall coffee is still a nickel in spite of new booths

"Man, this is great."

"I don't believe it."

The new white, cushioned booths and plant-filled troughs in the Rec hall have raised many such comments since their installation Thursday, Sept. 29.

Fr. Schaefer, who helped obtain the booths, explained that they were purchased from a bankrupt Lafayette restaurant. The original cost to the restaurant was $4500; however, the college obtained them for $2600. Half of the cost of the booths was paid from the income from the pin ball machines and the other half was paid by the college.

The same agency that furnished the cafeteria was responsible for contacting the school about the opportunity to buy the booths.

Chairs to accompany the new booths are planned for the future, reported Fr. Schaefer.

A proposal was made to raise the price of coffee in the Rec hall to a dime to defray the cost of the new booths, but Fr. Schaefer was instrumental in keeping the price at a nickel.

The new colored trays in the cafeteria were also included in the purchase of the new booths.

ACPS accepting student poetry

The American College Poetry Society is now compiling its fourth semesterly anthology of outstanding college poetry for publication early next year. Students who are interested in having their work published in this volume should act immediately.

Contributions must be the original work of the student (who shall retain literary rights to the material), submitted to Alan C. Fox, American College Poetry Society, Box 24463, Los Angeles 24, Calif., with the entrant's name, address, and school on each page.

Poems, which may deal with any subject, may not exceed 48 lines, nor may any individual submit more than five poems. Entries which are not accepted for publication will be returned if accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope, but they cannot be otherwise acknowledged, nor can the Society compensate students for poetry which is published.

All entries must be postmarked not later than Dec. 9, 1960, to be considered, and the decision of the judges is final.

teachers at 3,000 a year for the next ten years.

The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation does not accept applications directly from students. Every candidate for the award must be nominated by a faculty member.

Nominated students are invited to declare themselves active candidates for the award by sending the necessary application forms to the chairman of the selection committee for the region in which the prospective candidate is now located. Names of fellowship winners will be made known by March 15, 1961.

Education Dept. has get-together

The elementary education department held an informal get-together Oct. 6 in the education seminar room in the library. Coffee, tea and cake were served.

Purpose of the affair was to familiarize the new elementary education majors with the other students in the department and with their teachers. Faculty members present were Frs. Edward Maziarz, Ernest Lucas and Charles Banet and Sr. M. Audrey.

Fr. Maziarz pointed out the importance of teachers in general and especially the vital role of the elementary teacher who is with the child during its formative period of early schooling.

The need for qualified teachers was stressed by Fr. Lucas. He declared that teachers should love their profession for itself, and should not consider it as just another means to earn the almighty dollar.

Gratitude was expressed to Fr. Banet for his cooperation in purchasing books and material on elementary education for the library. Fr. Banet plans to have shades and screens put up in the department's seminar room.

The Lake County Club held its first meeting Sept. 20. Coffee and rolls were served to the members both old and new. Fr. Plans are being made for a trip during the semester break to Lake Geneva, Wisc. The Thanksgiving Dance was also discussed. It will be held in Whiting, Ind., at the Panel Room, Nov. 25. The Blow Jo Evans Combo will play at the dance.

The club has agreed to work hand in hand with the Calumet Center social club. It was also

This is the B-52. Advanced as it may be, this airplane has one thing in common with the first war-galleys of ancient Egypt...and with the air and space vehicles of the future. Someone must chart its course. Someone must navigate it.

For certain young men this presents a career of real executive opportunity. Here, perhaps you will have the chance to master a profession full of meaning, excitement and rewards...as a Navigator in the U. S. Air Force.

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet you must be an American citizen between 19 and 26½—single, healthy and intelligent. A high school diploma is required, but some college is highly desirable. Successful completion of the training program leads to a commission as a Second Lieutenant...and your Navigator wings.

If you think you have what it takes to measure up to the Aviation Cadet Program for Navigator training, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Or clip and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.
